A year ago last December the Berean Settlement was found in a modest cottage at 642 Russell street, Detroit, through the efforts of Mrs D I. Paige. The active work was placed in the hands of Miss Lura Peckham, a Michigan girl who had studied the work for years, and who, to perfect herself, had taken a hospital course for trained nurses. The cottage of six rooms was plainly furnished and Miss Peckham took up her residence there in every sense of the word. Two doors away was the Berean Chapel where the largest Free Kindergarten in Detroit is conducted, so that the news concerning the new comer was taken to their houses by the children. A mother's meeting followed, but many were a little timid in coming. Miss...

Reviews

This book will never be easy to start on looking at but quite entertaining to read. It is actually packed with wisdom and knowledge. It is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding, once you begin to read the book.
